

EDUCATION CHARACTER ON CHILD AGE EARLY

MUHAMMAD JIBRAN ALFARUQ

¹Department of Non-Formal Education, Faculty of Teacher Training and Education, Banten-Indonesia

E-mail : 22212300090@untirta.ac.id

ABSTRAC

Character education is more important than obligations, because in return children can understand moral values and practice them, not just teach about morality. Family is the best place to develop a child's personality, because children will talk to their family first. Character education begins when children reach an early age. Because from an early age this really guarantees the child's ability to develop his potential. Character education in early childhood can also help young children to be ready to regulate their emotions, this is an important requirement in designing childhood to face a future full of challenges, both in the world of education and in society.

Keywords: Characters, early childhood education

INTRODUCTION

According to Chapter 9 Paragraph 1 Constitution Number 20 Year 2003, every child entitled get an education And guidance in accordance with interest And his talent. preschool very important because early childhood is a period of very rapid physical, motoric, intellectual and social development. Early childhood education is the beginning of developing human character which means the formation of character, noble character, intelligence and pleasure. Character education is education related to character, and character formation in early childhood can be done through attitude and behavior education. This is clearly seen in actual child behavior.

Good behavior, responsibility, respect for fellow humans, and hard work. The aim of character education is to equip students with various skills and possibilities to judge right and wrong and uphold values and the environment Home plays an important role in increasing interest in reading child. Read develop rapidly in 2021, including motor, emotional and social development, as well as conceptual and language understanding. Parents can provide education. Mothers and fathers are the first people for their children and play the main parenting role in the family environment. Therefore, it is clear that education starting from home. The role of mothers and fathers is very important for sons and daughters. Children are raised by their father and mother. Children also receive guidance from adults who live in the same house. Children first attend school at home before entering the school environment (Apriyanti, 2019)

Education aims to meet the physical and mental growth needs of children and increase their maturity. A child's education should start from an early age, because this age is an important part of a child's growth and development. This is because the potential of every child develops very rapidly, even at an early age. At an early age children acquire good morals and values in order to develop their personality (Falhatunnisa, Santika, Sutarjo, 2020) Education is the development of attitudes, knowledge and skills, is a conscious effort in process-purposed learning.

Improving student behavior. Character education must start from an early age and be optimized at elementary school age. Humans are born with great potential, but it needs to be built and developed through socialization in the family, school and community (Annisa.Wiliyah, Rahmawati, 2018).

One of the tools helps develop character each person is education. Furthermore, education is also a continuous process which aims to change the identity of students to develop and advance knowledge. The world of education has experienced significant changes along with it along the time. This change changed many people's thinking from simple to modern. And this will have a big impact on the progress of education in Indonesia

Awiyah (2018) Not all parents realize this that there are various ways to develop children in a way optimal. Through play, children can learn something about themselves and their environment. Therefore, parents should encourage their children to use play as a way to reach their maximum potential.

Parents focus their efforts on improving their skills and knowledge not only as educators for their own children but also their family members. Parents can improve early childhood character education by providing stimulation and games that are appropriate to the child's development. Because playing helps children learn. Activity play help child develop fully in a way physique, intellectual, social, moral and emotional.

METHODOLOGY STUDY

This study is a literature analysis using the Systematic Review (SR) method, also known as Systematic Literature Review (SLR). SR is a systematic method for collecting, critically examining, integrating, and compiling results from various types of research related to a subject or research questions. Research begins by collecting articles related to the topic .

A systematic review follows previous research that is high quality and relevant to the research question and involves identifying, evaluating, and selecting a specific problem and asking questions that are clearly resolved based on pre-established criteria .

The Systematic Literature Review (SLR) method, which is systematic, explicit and repeatable, is used in this research to identify, evaluate and organize research works and the thoughts of researchers and practitioners. The aim of this method is to recognize, review and evaluate all research that has been conducted. This method consists of several steps, such as.

Question First is There is difference character in education child age early.

Second, the focus of this research data population is on the importance of character education in early childhood education to shape character in early childhood education. Literature research began by using existing data on Google Scholar to look at the relationship between learning communities in early childhood from 2010 to 2024.

Third, after obtaining various articles. In searching the Google Scholar Database, the research found 70 articles related to the theme of Character in early childhood education; then, from several articles, selected 23 articles that were relevant to the topic under study. Next, at 20 articles per cycle, research deep carried out on 5 articles according to the theme of discussion, and in the end, 22 articles. The flow diagram of the exclusion and inclusion process at the Systematic Evaluation stage is presented below (n: number of articles) .

RESULTS AND DISCUSSION

The aim of the national movement known as "Character Education" is to create a generation that is moral, responsible and caring by teaching and emulating morals. good for future generations. focuses on general principles. Through such actions, instilling good morals in children in the family is very effective. When children are raised with principles such as self-control, responsibility, honesty, and self-respect since age early, this habit will persist into adulthood. To achieve all of this is not only difficult, but also not easy.

Character education cannot be a “quick fix” because the results will affect morale and child ethics in the long term. It is difficult for parents to instill character values Which true for the child if it is not started early early. Character instills in students good habits (habituation), so that students learn what is right and wrong (cognitive), learn good values (emotional), and develop habits (psychomotor).

Researcher And Year Research	Title	Results Study
Lilis Suryani (2007)	ANALYSIS OF EARLY CHILDHOOD EDUCATION PROBLEMS IN INDONESIAN SOCIETY.	Analysis of early childhood education problems in Indonesian society includes various aspects that need to be considered. The following are some of the main problems that can be identified: Accessibility and Quality of Education: Although there is increasing accessibility to PAUD in Indonesia. Infrastructure Limitations: Many regions in Indonesia, especially in rural and remote areas, still face limited educational infrastructure. Qualifications of Teachers and Educators: There are still problems regarding the qualifications and availability of adequate teachers and educational staff for early

		childhood. Many teachers do not have an educational background, and do not match the knowledge they carry.
Rika Det et al (2020)	Education character on children young	Early childhood children face a growthphase And development which is very complex and unique. Its growth and development is so fast unlikely to be repeated in the future. At an early age, also known as the "golden age", children easily imitate and imitate absorb information from their environment. Therefore, because parents and teachers serve as models for children, teachers and educators must provide education character to child early age .
Ulya Ainur Rofiah, Maemonah, Putri Indah, Lestari	PHILOSOPHY OF EARLY CHILDHOOD EDUCATION ACCORDING TO FREDWRICH WILHELM FROEBEL.	Friedrich Wilhelm Froebel had very important views on early childhood education, which greatly influenced modern educational practice at the preschool level. Some of the core views state that: The Organic Process is an educational process that children must carry out as developing living organisms. Fredwrich WR believed that education should reflect nature, allowing children to grow naturally and develop. Play: Fredwrich emphasized the role of play in early childhood education. Playing is a natural way for children to learn and explore. He even created the concept of "gifts" (educational games) designed to stimulate children's imagination and creativity. Teacher's Role as Facilitator: He sees the teacher's role as a facilitator in learning, not as a

		monotonous and boring source of knowledge. Teachers must create a conducive environment for early childhood development and exploration and discover children's potential
Mulianah Khoironi et al	Education Character on Children	Character education begins at an early age because early age is an important period in a person's development. Children's character education is not only done by Teacher; Parents are also responsible for educating their children in their home. In do education character, parents and teachers are role models must imitated And emulated. Children will imitate the speech and behavior of the model, so that people Parents and teachers must be careful when speaking and behaving.

Because play helps children learn, developmentally appropriate play and stimulation can help people old imparts quality education character in children small. Playing is an activity that can help children develop physically, intellectually, socially, morally and emotionally. The family is the first and main place where parents educate their children, so families must educate children with good personality values. Basically, every childhood parent will eventually adopt a personality-based parenting approach.

Therefore, parents will understand better if the process of developing a child's personality begins with a process of major change in the parents. Family important in helping children develop. A person's personality formed based on his lineage. In Indonesia, children spend 60 to 80% of their time with their families until the age of 18. Until the age of 18, children still need parental attention and family warmth. Children's brains can develop rapidly. Currently, children's talents and potential are increasingly developing, both in the educational and non-educational fields. The most important period in a child's growth and development is at the age of one to three years.

CONCLUSION

The conclusion I draw is that personality education in Preschool age has a very important role in shaping a child's personality and ability to develop their potential. Because a child's first interactions occur within the family, parents play an important role in developing the child's character. Character education from an early age can help children manage emotions and prepare difficult future. Parents and educators can teach character to young children because they are role models for their children. Stimulation to encourage children's physical and mental growth and development is also carried out in the context of developing preschool education. Therefore, character education for children from an early age has a big influence on the formation of their personality and preparation his future.

REFERENCE

- Dadan Darmawan (2023). Implementation of strengthening character education through habituation methods to form early childhood independence at the Azzahroh Serang school. Google Scholar Journal
- Devianti, Sari, And Nobleman (2020). Education character in age early Partner Ash Shibyan: Education and Counseling Journal, 3(02), 67–78 .
- Khaironi, m (2017). Education character on age early. Golden Age Journal, 1(02), 82- 89 .
- Maghfiroh And Suryana (2021). Media learning For child age early in education child early age. Tambusai Education Journal, 5(1), 1560-1566.
- Mutaqin, M. F. T., Risna, I., & Sari, N. (2023). DEVELOPMENT OF A TRANSFORMATIVE PARENTING PROGRAM E-MODULE IN INCREASING THE RESILIENCE OF MOTHERS WITH STUNTING CHILDREN. Journal of the Existence of Out-of-School Education (E-Plus), 8(2).
- Rosmilawati, I., & Mutaqin, M. F. T. (2024). Eradicating out-of-school-children: strategies and best practices from alternative education context. JPPI (Jurnal Penelitian Pendidikan Indonesia), 10(2), 364-376.
- Saputra, A. Education child since early At-Ta'dib: Journal of Prodi's Research on Education in Islam, 192–209.
- Wasis, S. (2020). The Importance of Implementation Freedom to Learn in Children's Education Early Childhood Pedagogy: Journal of Academic Education, 9(2), 36-41.